DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Handjojo et al., US 2002/0171759 in view of Marques Pereira et al., US 5,929,918.

In considering claims 1-2,

Handjojo discloses a motion estimator 244 which predicts the amount of motion between two images using a 3D technique where the amount of motion is predicted (probability) to be static (non-moving), slow moving or fast moving (page 6, para 75).

However Handjojo does not explicitly recite the determining the image component where the component is texture.

Handjojo does disclose the motion prediction (probability) of image blocks based and their contribution to the interpolated deinterlaced image based upon the components being, static, slow-moving or fast-moving.

The detection/determining of a texture component is conventional in the art, thus the examiner incorporates Marques Pereira, which discloses a interlaced-progressive conversion system which detects/computes the texture components of pixels in order to adequately interpolate the image edge of a signal.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Handjojo which discloses the deinterlacing of a video signal by detecting the amount of motion between blocks of a field/frame, where the amount of motion is ascertained by analyzing the content of the block in order to determine motion as being static (zero), slow moving or fast moving, by also analyzing the texture of the image as done by Marques Pereira to adequately confirm/predict the possibility of motion (or not) between the compared components.

In considering claim 3,

As shown in Figure 7, Handjojo discloses the process of the past, current and future (next) fields, where the current field is received after the past but before the future, where this is the sequence in which images are transmitted and received.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure—see newly cited references on attached form PTO-892.

The Patent Electronic Business Center (EBC) allows USPTO customers to retrieve data, check the status of pending actions, and submit information and applications. The tools currently available in the Patent EBC are Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) and the Electronic Filing System (EFS). PAIR (<http://pair.uspto.gov>) provides customers direct secure access to their own patent application status information, as well as to general patent information publicly available. EFS allows customers to electronically file patent application documents securely via the Internet. EFS is a system for submitting new utility patent applications and pre-grant publication submissions in electronic publication-ready form. EFS includes software to help customers prepare submissions in extensible Markup Language (XML) format and to assemble the various parts of the application as an electronic submission package. EFS also allows the submission of Computer Readable Format (CRF) sequence listings for pending biotechnology patent applications, which were filed in paper form.
